HAVE YOU PARTICIPATED IN YPAC BEFORE? WHEN?

Yes, in Maribor (2018) and in Meran (2019)

WHEN AND HOW DID YOU FIRST BECOME INTERESTED IN YPAC?

One of my teachers told me about YPAC and immediately got my attention, so I applied for the YPAC in Maribor.

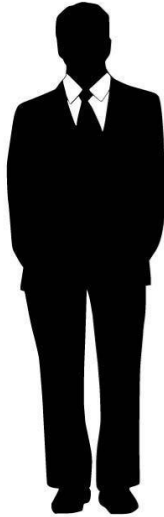

WHO WAS THE MOST INTERESTING PERSON YOU MET AT YPAC? WHY?

Through YPAC I had the chance to meet so many inspiring people – other students as well as politicians and experts, each one with a different background and a different opinion, that I cannot pick “the most interesting person”. I really appreciate the exchange of ideas, information and arguments that I had with every single one.

WHAT IS THE MOST URGENT CHANGE THAT HAS TO BE MADE IN ORDER TO PRESERVE OUR ALPINE ENVIRONMENT?

In my opinion the first step that has to be done is a radical change of mind and attitude of every single person living in the Alpine region. We all have to realize that our home is one of the most precious and most beautiful regions of the world and that at the same time it is endangered through our irresponsible use of its resources and manmade pollution. Everybody has to acknowledge the fact that we are privileged to live here and therefore have to protect the Alps for future generations.

Yes, in Maribor as a delegate and in Meran as a CP.

WHEN AND HOW DID YOU FIRST BECOME INTERESTED IN YPAC?

A teacher came across me and I had heard of it before, so I took the chance. And being able to state your opinion and discuss with other people was always something I liked.

WHO WAS THE MOST INTERESTING PERSON YOU MET AT YPAC? WHY?

There are many people I could now state, but Madeleine Rohrer was one of the few people I met who seemed to be actually interested in what we are doing and was trying her best to get in discussion, not simply smile at our resolutions and ideas.

WHAT IS THE MOST URGENT CHANGE THAT HAS TO BE MADE IN ORDER TO PRESERVE OUR ALPINE ENVIRONMENT?

Loss of biodiversity and habitat are probably some of the most damaging issues we have to tackle. Those problems are mostly caused by humans and we have to learn and find out how to sustainably live together without harming each other.

I think we must inform more people about the problems in the Alps and encourage sustainable tourism.

Yes, I also took part in YPAC in Maribor and Meran.

Last year I had the opportunity to meet Mrs Schulze, the German Federal Minister for the Environment. It was a great experience to meet the different secretaries at the Alpweek in Innsbruck and to pass them on our resolution from Merano.

Public Transport needs to be available for everyone and it has to be more attractive than using the own car.
